How risky is it?

The value of the Fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility."

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk rating

Next Edge Capital Corp. has rated the volatility of this fund as medium to high.

This rating is based on how much the Fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the Fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the Fund's returns, see the "What are the Risks of Investing in a Mutual Fund" section of the Fund's simplified prospectus.

No guarantees

Like most mutual funds, this fund doesn't have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

How has the Fund performed?

This section tells you how Class A units of the Fund have performed since its inception. Returns are after expenses have been deducted. These expenses reduce the Fund's returns.

Year-by-year returns

Since Class A units of the fund have been available for distribution for less than a full calendar year under a simplified prospectus, performance information is not available.

Best and worst 3-month returns

Since Class A units of the fund have been available for distribution for less than a full calendar year under a simplified prospectus, performance information is not available.

Average return

The annual compounded return of Class A of the fund was -6.52% since inception. If you had invested $1,000 in this series of the fund since inception, your investment would now be worth $905.

Who is this fund for?

Investors who:

- are investing for the medium and/or long term
- can tolerate medium-high risk
- want an opportunity for capital appreciation

A word about tax

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make from your investment in the Fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the Fund in a registered plan, such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Class A units of the Fund. The fees and expenses – including any commissions – can vary among classes of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. Ask about other funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

1. Sales charges

The Class A units are available through an initial sales charge option.

Sales charge option	What you pay		How it works
	in percent (%)	in dollars ($)
Initial sales charge	0 to 3.00% of the amount you buy	0 to $30.00 of every $1,000 you pay	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You and your representative decide on the rate. • The initial sales charge is deducted from the amount you buy and it goes to your representative's firm as a commission.

2. Fund expenses

You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the returns of this class of the Fund. As of June 30, 2016, the fund's expenses were 6.04% of its value. This equals $60 for every $1,000 invested.

	Annual rate (as at a % of the fund's value)
Management expense ratio (MER)	4.36%
Trading expense ratio (TER)	1.68%
Fund Expenses	6.04%

In certain circumstances the Fund will pay Next Edge Capital Corp. a performance fee equal to 20% of the percentage gain in the net asset value of the Class A units of the Fund over a defined period, as compared to a blended benchmark made up of: (i) 40% of the S&P/TSX Capped Health Care Index; plus (ii) 60% of the NASDAQ Biotechnology Index; over that same period. For more details, please see the "Fees and Expenses Payable by the Fund" section of the Fund's simplified prospectus.

More about the trailing commission

The trailing commission is an ongoing commission. It is paid for as long as you own the Fund. It is for the services and advice that your representative and their firm provide to you.

Next Edge Capital Corp. pays the trailing commission to your representative's firm. It is paid from the fund's management fee and is based on the value of your investment. Specifically, the trailing commission equals 1.00% of the value (or $10.00 for every $1,000 invested) of all Class A units held by clients of such representatives which have not been redeemed by the payment date.

3. Other fees

You may have to pay other fees when you buy, hold, sell or switch units of the Fund.

Fee	What you pay
Short-term trading fee	At the discretion of Next Edge Capital Corp., up to 3.00% of the value of units you sell or switch within 90 days of buying them. This fee goes to the Fund.
Switch fee	Your representative's firm may charge you up to 3.00% of the value of units you switch to another Next Edge fund.

What if I change my mind?

Under securities law in some provinces and territories, you have the right to:

- withdraw from an agreement to buy mutual funds within two business days after you receive a simplified prospectus or Fund Facts document, or
- cancel your purchase within 48 hours after you receive confirmation of the purchase.

In some provinces and territories, you also have the right to cancel a purchase, or in some jurisdictions, claim damages, if the simplified prospectus, annual information form, Fund Facts document or financial statements contain a misrepresentation. You must act within the limit set by the securities law in your province or territory.
